MR. HAVEMEYER'S ACCEPTANCE OF THE MAYORALTY NOMINATION. HIS LETTER TO THE TAMMANY COMMITTEE.

HIS LETTER TO THE TAMMANY COMMITTEE.

TAMMANY HALL, Nov. 19, 1858.

The Hon. Wm. F. Havemeren.—Sir: At a Mayoralty Convention, held at Tenmany Hall, on Saturday, the 18th inst., you were constinuously nominated as the Democratic candidate for the Mayorary.

Your acceptance of the nomination will be halled with gratification by the Democracy, and by our citizens generally.

Yery respectfully, your obedient servant,

YOHN KELLY, Chairman.

WM. CALDWELL, CHARLES K. SMITH, JOHN WHRELER, Sociations.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 21, 1859. NEW-YORK, Nov. 21, 1839.

The Hon. John Kelly, Chairman—Dear Sir: I have to-day received your note of 19th inst., informing me that "at a Mayoralty Convention, held at Tammany Hall on Saturday last, I was unanimously "nominated as the Democratic candidate for the May-"oralty," and expressing your conviction "that my "acceptance of the nomination will be halled with "gratification by the Democracy and by our citizens "openerally."

generally."

When, on the first mention of my name by the pubc journals in connection with that office, I announced
y determination not again to assume its duties, I did not suppose it possible that any circumstances could arise to change that resolution. Recognizing the du-ties which every good citizen owes to the community in which he lives, I still claim the right to be governed by my own conscientions judgment as to the consider-ations, both of a public and private nature, which enter into such a question as that which you have presented

Having served already two terms in the Mayoralty I felt that the surrender of my personal comfort and happiness, as well as of my private interests which ithen involved, should not be repeated without a stronger hope of public advantage than I was able to entertain; but the earnest representations of citizens of all parties; the tender to me which you have made, in your nomination of Corporation Counsel, of able and faithful cooperation, with an assured identity of views as to the requirements of the municipal government, and your recognition, while offering a party nomination, that my duties extend alike to the whole people, induce me to yield my judgment, and to accept the nomination which you have been commissioned to offer.

Very respectfully, your obedient servent, W. F. HAVEMEYER.

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION.—The Republican City Convention met last evening at No. 618 Broadway for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Corporation Counsel, and for Governor of the Alms-House. William Curtis Noyes was elected Chairman of the Convention-Wm. R. Stewart, who was first elected. not being present. Mr. Noyes, in returning thanks for his election, remarked the increasing power of the Republican party in the city, as manifested by compelling Tammany Hall at least to nominate her best men.

The roll was called two or three times, and the names of the substitutes recorded. Two sets of delegates appeared from the Sixth Ward-one headed by Mr. Pock, and one headed by Owen W. Brennan. A motion was made that one man from each party be allowed ten minutes to present the claims of his party, and the vote to be then taken without debate. After ineffectual attempts to amend, this motion was carried.

Dr. Van Wyck, on behalf of the Peck delegation, stated that it was from the regular Association, which had the regular roll always in use by the Sixth Ward had the regular roll always in use by the Sixth Ward Republican Association. He complained that after the General Committee had appointed a Committee of three to heal their dissensions, the Chairman of the General Committee, then a candidate for an office on Staten Island, was driven by the power of the Brennan clique to appoint another Committee, expressly to "play out Van Wyck."

Mr. Brennan gave his account. He said that after this Committee of Three had done their work they had a meeting of the Association, when the Van Wyck party were defeated by a majority of 13 or 14. A portion of this party remained with the Association, and there were not more than ten persons who had left with Van Wyck. None of these men were seen electioneering the ticket at the polls at the last election.

Mr. Van Wyck stated that Mr. Brennan had seen Mr. Van Wyck stated that Mr. Brenman had seen him at work at the polls at the last election. Brennan had sunk the vote of the party to 154 in the Ward, and would sink it lower if allowed to go on. He used the Republican party to carry out his corrupt schemes, being sent to Syracuse from an Assembly District in which he did not reside. Mr. Van Wyck admitted that Brennan got 49 votes for Inspector, while he got only 15. But at the same time the Republican ticket cot only 23.

only 15. But at the same time the Republican texes got only 23.

Mr. Brennan desired that his course in the Ward should be judged by Republicans, and after much courfusion, the vote was taken with the following result—Gen. Nye being excused from voting: 37 votes for th Peck delegation to 67 for the Brennan delegation.

Mr. Pepper submitted a communication from the People's Convention, held at the Hone House, accrediting a Committee of Conference. Mesers. Pepper, Kelly, and Benedict were appointed to invite the Committee into the Hall, and they were introduced to the Convention.

Convention.

Mr. Glover, its Chairman, stated that it was appointed in order to ascertain if a union could not be effected of all the elements of the Opposition. He said that the American party had nominated for one office, and if some consideration were shown them they would no doubt indores the entire ticket.

The Chairman replied that the Convention would consider the proposition and report its action to the Chairman of the Committee.

The Committee then retired, the Convention stand-ing the while.

Mr. Wakeman moved that it was inexpedient to on of the Committee.

Mr. Waseman moved that it was inexpedient to take any further action in these premises. Mr. Evarts thought that, as the People's party had made complete nominations before sending their com-mittee, the Republicans should make the same nomiations before a conference.

Mr. Wakeman then moved that the Convention pro-

Mr. Wakeman then moved that the Convention pro-ceed to the nomination of Corporation Connsel. Mr. Evarts then proposed the name of E. Delafield Smith for Corporation Counsel. He regarded the course of the Republican party in the coming contest as of far more than municipal importance. We had to maintain our side of the great Federal issues. It might be that one city charton would determine the State maintain our side of the great Federal issues. It might be that our city election would determine the State election of next November, and that that State election would determine the vote of the Electoral College for President. It was then of the highest importance that the Republican party should in this election preserve a firm and undivided front, and that they should in no event be led to support the honest candidate of a dishonest party. Mr. Evants eloquently advocated the claims of Mr. Smith to the candidacy.

Luther R. Marsh nominated D. D. T. Marshall, of the Twenty-first Ward.

Chas. C. Nott, eeq., supported Mr. Tuthill. He begged Republicans to remember last year, when Mr. Tuthill was withdrawn for the sake of harmony, and to remember the chaims of the section of the city which Mr. Tuthill represented.

Joseph Hoxie nominated Win. T. Pinckney.

William A. Walker was also nominated.

Mr. D. D. Conover opposed Mr. Pinckney as the candidate of the Moloneys and the Dugree, and as a candidate of the Moioneys and the Dugree, and as a cancus candidate.

Mr. Jae. Keily supported Mr. Marshall, and Mr. Evatts indersed the character of Gov. Pinskney. It was stated that Mr. Pinckney signed the roll of the Twenty-first Ward Association four weeks ago.

Mr. Hoxle said that Mr. Pinckney never belonged to the American party, and that he had long been a member of the Republican party in the Seventh Ward.

A vote was then taken with the following result:

METTING OF THE OLD-LINE WHIGH .- Last evening, an adjourned meeting of the Whig General Committee was held at Thorp's Hotel, corner of Broadway and Eighth street, ex-Councilman Webb in the chair.
After calling the roll and reading the minutes, General Tallmedge, Chairman of the Committee of Five, deputed at the last meeting to tender the Hon. De Poyster Ogden the nomination for Mayor, and also to wait upon the Republican Mayoralty Convention and inform them of their action, reported that the Committee had visited the Republican Convention and in formed them of their nomination.

The only attention that the Convention paid to their communication, was to lay the subject upon the table. This conduct on the part of the Republicans toward so honorable a man as Mr. Ogden, was deemed very disrespectful, and he hoped the Whigs would show the Republicans that though comparatively few in numbers, they would stand firm by their standard. The Commi tee had waited upon Mr. Ogden, and tendered him the nomination, but as yet, they had not heard from him, and he would not probably respond until the nominations of other parties had been made. Speeches were made by Messrs. Jus. Brooks, Jennings, Draper, Levy, Dodge, Wheeler, and others, in regard to the treatment of the Committee they had appointed to confer with the Republicans. It was denounced as discourteons and disrespectful, and a proposition was made that no further communication should take place between them. respectful, and he hoped the Whigs would show the

If the Americans would indorse their candidate for Mayor, they would return the compliment by indorsing the nominations of that party for Corporation Counnel and Governor of the Alms-House. Quite a number were in favor of making nominations forthwith, but they were overruled, and the Committee, after some further discussion, adjourned until Saturday night.

FIRST IN THE FIELD .- A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican electors of the XVIth Ward was held last evening at Friendship Hall, in West Sixteenth street, for the purpose of organizing for the campaign of 1860, and effecting a union of all the Opposition elements in support of Republican nominations. The following officers were unani-

Woodford, Mordeon L. Marsh. Secretaries—Charles A. Clark, Adrian Grafi, ir. Treasurer—Stephen W. Jones.

One delegation bore credentials signed by the regular President of the Twentieth Ward Council and a temporary Secretary, while the other delegation was armed with credentials from a temporary President and the regular Secretary. The Convention was in doubt which to receive, and finally offered to accommodate the matter by accepting two members from each delegation. This was indignantly refused by both parties, each contending that they were right and the other wrong, and finally ended the dispute by withdrawing their credentials, and retiring from the field. The Convention then nominated for Councilmen Charles M. Decker of the Twels Ward, John L. Noves of the Twenty-first Ward, and A. Allen of the Twenty-second Ward. "More than forty years ago, John Randolph said, in one of his speeches, 'The night bell never tolls for fire in Richmond that the mother does not clasp her infant closer to her bosom.' That fear still exists. A lady of my family traveled in the interior of Virginia has don't. servile insurrections, said: still exists. A lady of my family traveled in the interior of Virginia just after the massacre committed by the slaves at Southaupton. She was received with trae Virginia hospitality; everything bore the appearance of wealth and tranquillity in a family of a mother and five young ladies, whose beauty and refinement she de charm over the home which they adomed. It seemed to be the abode of happiness. But appearances are deceivini. The lady of the house confided her real feelings to her guest. All her husband's property consisted of slaves on the plantation. These she was ready to abanden if she and her daughters could only live in the Northern States, and support themselves by the labor of their bands. This feeding was easily accounted for y the scenes through which she had just passed. The news of the insurrection had been received. But few white men belonged to the place, and she was left alone, surrounded by slaves, with no male protector. She fortified the house, and armod her daughters with rifles, determined, if resistance was unavailing, to destroy them

The fact that the prettiest woman of Boston was on board the train, naturally led to some speculation among the passengers, and the conductor was necessarily obliged to answer many inquires respecting the couple which excited so much horsest. JOHN BROWN'S LAST APPEAL TO A COURT. On Saturday last, John Brown, by counsel, made his last appeal to a Virginia tribunal. Within a few hours' time, the five Judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals uttered their unanimous opinion that the judgment of the Jefferson County Court, under which the old man awaits death by hanging on the 2d day of De-cember, was right; and therefore they denied his petition for a writ of error.

The indictment upon which Brown was tried contained four counts-for treason, for advising and conspiring with slaves and others to rebel, and for murder Charged jointly with others, he was tried alone. One general judgment of death was entered upon the whole

The grounds of his application for a writ of error were few. He claimed, first, that the judgment against him was erroneous, because it was not averred in the treason count, that at the time of the offense charged, he was a citizen of the State of Virginia or of the United States. The law is well settled, that reason is a breach of allegiance, and can be committed only by one who owes allegiance, either temporary or perpetual. Brown appealed to the Court, that if the udgment against him on all the counts, including this defective one of treason, was to stand, he would be put out of all possible reach of the Executive clemency. That clemency could have reached him, on the contrary, if the judgment had only been on the other counts of the indictment.

Secondly, be claimed that the judgment under which he now awaits death was erroneous, in that the Court below denied his application that the prosecution be made to elect some one count upon which to try him, and abandon the rest. He was entitled to that election, First: Because the offense of treason is not pardonable by the Governor of Virginia, and therefore a count charging it should not have been united in an indictment with counts for offenses that are pardonable. Second: Because the punishment upon conviction upon each of the counts was not necessarily the same; that while it was inevitably capital upon one of them, upon the others he might have been found guilty only of a misdemeanor, or of a simple manslaught

Thirdly, he insisted that the Court below should have instructed the Jury that if they believed, from the evidence, that at the time of the committing of the acts charged in the count for treason, he was not a citizen of Virginia, but of another State, he could not be convicted under it.

Fourthly, he claimed that the finding by the Jury upon the counts for conspiring with slaves to rebel, and for killing " four white men and one free negro," "in manner and form as aforesaid," was too uncertain and inconsistent to warrant a judgment of death.

Briefly, and without any delay painful to the tense expectation of the Virginia mind, did the five Judges of the Appeals Court say to John Brown, through his counsel, "The judgment under which you are to be "hung by the neck until you are dead, is plainly right." His counsel were not allowed to be heard.

From this decision of the Virginia Judges an appeal of Brown's case has already been taken to the high court of Public Opinion in America. What the judgment of that august tribunal will be, time will show. It will, however, in all probability, not be finally rendered until after Brown is dead and buried.

Correspondence of the Baltimore American.

The excitement of Saturday morning in reference to a battle in Clarke County has completely died off—messengers having been sent by Col. Davis, who returned, and reported a false alarm.

But the most exciting event of Saturday was the arrival, in the evening, of Mr. Smith Crane, a citizen of Kansas, but a native of this town. Mr. Crane is a Pro-Slavery man, and his arrival at once led our now suspecting citizens to conclude that all was not right, and that he had come with news of dreadful import. He was immediately besieged by an anxious crowd, and made to relieve himself of any and everything he knew in reference to Brown in Kansas, and also the news he had in reference to a contemplated rescue of the prisoners. Mr. Crane, who is, beyond doubt an entirely reliable man, stated that the excitement in regard to the affair was very great among the Anti-Stavery men in Kansas, and he knew for a certainty that they were arming in large numbers, and that they openly proclaimed their intention of making Brown's rescue. He states that at least five hundred can be raised in a few hours' notice, and that they are determined and desperate men, and have nover failed to rescue Brown from the many narrow straits in which he had placed himself in the southern part of Kansas. He also states that Brown is the idol of the Anti-Slavery ruffians of Kansas, and that he had only to give the command and they would follow. Mr. Crane states that among the number who declare their intention to attempt a rescue are some Danites, who hold Brown in high esteem. After leaving Kansas, Mr. Crane travsled on until be reached Belluir, Ohio, where he was taken sick. One night, while lying awake in his bed, he says he heard a party of Abontionists in the means of his rescue. One-of the men said that they could raise three thousand in less than twenty-four hours to go by way of Baltimore and Ohio Railrond, and that the rescue would be made at all hazards.

A few hours after the arriv

A few hours after the arrival of Mr. Crane in town the Hon. Andrew Hunter received a telegraphic dispatch from United States Marshal Johnson, of Ohio, stating that a large number of men, from 600 to 1,000, were arming, under the leadership of John Brown, jr., son of Old Brown, and would certainly make an attempt to rescue the prisoners; thus confirming all that was reported by Mr. Crane. As soon as the contents of the dispatch were made known, the greatest excitations of the dispatch were made known, the greatest excitations. tempt to rescue the prisoners; thus confirming all that was reported by Mr. Crane. As soon as the contents of the dispatch were made known, the greatest excitement was created, but it did not partake of fear. Col. Davis immediately dispatched to Gov. Wise for 500 men, who, it was announced to the excited population, would be here last evening. With these facts spread before them, and a thousand reports, which could not be traced to a reliable source, the good people of Charlestown retired to their beds, some placing their trust in Providence, others in the military, and others in their own steut arms.

It may be mentioned here that the Artillery Company from Alexandria, 50 men, arrived about daylight Saturday morning, causing mach commotion. A large majority of the colored population, who rise earliest, thought the enemy "had come and they were theirs." Your correspondent also heard of numerous good jokes at the expense of some of our most benevolent and respectable old ladies, but the moral would not be sufficient to adorn the tale, so he forbears to mention them.

As stated above, yesterday morning dawned on us beautifully, and preparations were commenced early for the reception of the Richmond military. Large quantities of materials for bedicks were purchased, and the aid of the ladies, Sabbath as it was, solicited in making them up. Your correspondent happened to step in to see a friend about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. She is a lady of much piety, and usually attends church at least three times on Sabbath. Judge of my surprise, when I entered, to hear the busy hum of the sewing-machine, under tha direction of one of our ladies, who was turning off the cotton at a rapid rate. Sented around her were a number of Charlestown's fairest daughters, busily plying their needles. One of them, a member of a church, assured me she did not think she should be held responsible for the sin the was committing, and thought that Col. Davis should respond to the question, guilty or not guilty in that upper Court when, our actions will be passed on.

About 6 o'clock the shrill whistle of the iron horse was heard, and citizens bocked to the Court-House and vicinity, where the soldiers would have to pass. The companies which came to Charlestown were the Richmond Greys, 76; Company F, 65; Virginia Ridemes, 41; and Young Guard, 56—250. The companies remaining at Harper's Ferry, for the night, were Richmond Blues, 68; Montgomery Guard, 46; and Hovritzer Company, 51. The latter companies will be brought up to-day.

This morning acomyany of 100 horse arrived from Warrenton, Va., and 200 troops will-also arrived in the train from Fredericksburg and Petersburg. Yan will see by this that the town will have about in his cell. He will soon be as well as ever. Capt. Brown has also recovered, and is getting quite artive. He refuse to receive any ministers who countanance Slavery, telling them to go bome and read thus Ribbes. The Rev.

also recovered, and is getting quite active. He refuse to receive any ministers who countsanne Slavery, telling them to go home and read their Bibles. The Rev. Alfred Griffith had an interview with him a few days since, which lasted for nearly an hour, principally on the subject of Slavery. They quoted Scripture to sustain their views, and had quite a clashing time of it, but neither was able to correcte the other of the correctness of his peculiar doctrines.

LECTURE ON THE "DUTIES OF LIFE," BY THE HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX OF INDENNA."

Last evening, the seventh lecture of the Hymonthe Course was delivered as above. The church was well filled, and as Mr. Colfax made his appearance on the platform he was wellecomed with a hearty burst of applanae. He was introduced to the andience by Mr. Tillon.

He then alluded to selfishness as the beasting sin of the race, quoting illustrations of it frem Dickens, Walter Scott, &c. And in contrast with this, alluded to charity, in the wide scope of its measing, illustrating it by one of Mohammed's string affectors. He spoke of true Progress and Reform, and said that the ecturer, coming from the West, was himself a living ymbol of its growth and progress. Twenty-five years ago there was a poor boy in a public school in the Ninth Ward of New-York, who always stood at the head of his class; a few years afterward there was a yonng printer standing at his case, half-ragged has printers usually standy, in a town away in the State of Indiana; later still, there was an editor who controlled the most infinential prose in that State; and not long since there was chosen and rehosen, out of that editorial office, a member of the United States Congress. Now, that school-boy, that printer, that editor, and that member of Congress, were one and the same man, and his name was Schuyler Coffax. Great applanse.] Having already schieved these many successes, he was 'to be introduced to still another to-night. For, it was well known that the Plymonth Course of Lectures are to be concluded by a distinguished gentleman from Ohio and was already entitled to be presented as Speaker of the Honze house of Applanae and languitar], the so common longing for the transitory fame of the present age.

Mr. Colfax emmarked that he approached the stand with unaffected diffidence and embarrassment, having been requested only with reluctance to the appeal. His subject was the Duties of Life, to only a few of which could he allude in an hour, so broad and varied was the te
